Luxaviation and Starspeed have recently joined forces to offer a combined VIP and VVIP helicopter operation, with a fleet of 42 helicopters and integrated customer aviation management services. Starspeed's contribution is made up of 19 helicopters under management, ranging from the Airbus Helicopters AS350 to the EC155, Sikorsky S-76 and S-92, together with four additional helicopters used for training and charter.

Under the arrangement, Starspeed will continue to operate under its own identity, leadership and personnel, but will benefit from an expanded back office and the additional resources that Luxaviation can provide. These include the availability of fixed-wing assets under the control of a single management organisation and links with 25 worldwide FBO facilities, 15 maintenance centres and a global fleet of more than 250 aircraft.

Transport Canada (TC) has approved the Donaldson Aerospace inlet filter barriers (IBF) for installation on the Airbus Helicopters AS350B3, EC130B4 and EC130T2/H130 helicopters, allowing operators to improve the reliability and performance by protecting the engine from undue contamination and wear.

Donaldson now has TC certification for 16 IBF systems, covering Airbus, Leonardo, Bell, MD Helicopters and Sikorsky helicopters. 14 of the systems are cleared for operation in falling and blowing snow conditions.

SITUATIONS WANTED

DIGITAL or PRINT ADVERTISING?
NOW with
HELIDATA News & Classified
You get BOTH

- The aviation community likes print ads
Polls show 75 percent of industry professionals prefer print, but digital has its place.
- Online ads reach an audience for about three hours - Print ads are around for at least four weeks
Polls show over 60 percent of readers are influenced more by print ads in a magazine.
- Advertising remains a Powerful Tool
Regular corporate slots keep your company's name and products in front of the industry decision makers and ads in pre-show issues increase the footfall at your booth, often at a fraction of the cost of your exhibit.
